Have you ever wondered what career you might be able to have in Cyber Security? This industry has exploded over the past 20 years with opportunities across a number of industries all over the world. No matter what industry you might like to work in, cyber security specialists are needed. There are a number of different job roles that might interest you as well. From IAM Manager, to Security Analyst Compliance Officer, or perhaps IT Auditor or IAM Consultant. This career just might be for you.

Please join our virtual spotlight and learn more from Zehra Beatty. Account Executive from the EC-Council. She will share more about the courses currently being offered through Great Plains College in partnership with the EC Council. Currently, Zehra supports cybersecurity training solutions across Canada with the EC-Council.
